Selling to the Government

Ethete, WY– The Marketing and Procurement Services Program of the National Center for American Indian Enterprise Development (NCAIED) will join the Wind River Development Fund, and Small Business Administration to host a free seminar on proposal writing, and requirements necessary to sell to the Government at the Wind River Tribal College in Ethete, WY.

The training is an opportunity for American Indian business (suppliers) owners to gain valuable information on how to effectively compete and sustain opportunities with Government, State, and corporations interested in purchasing American Indian business products and/or services. NCAIED and MPSP encourage your participation in this event July 18, 2006.

Funded through a cooperative agreement with the Department of Defense (DOD), Defense Logistics Agency (DLA), the National Center for American Indian Enterprise Development (NCAIED), the Marketing Procurement Services Program (MPSP) sub-office, located in Polson Montana, offers assistance and training to American Indian and tribally owned small businesses who desire to sell their products and/or services to federal, state, local, tribal, and International Governments.

Space is limited - RSVP REQUIRED:
Raymond King (406) 883-6910, or Lisa Wagner 877-253-3824
